

“To feel valued for the gifts with which we are born affirms our worth and dignity.” —Francis Weller, The Wild Edge of Sorrow

To feel we belong is our birthright. We are by nature designed to be welcomed into a village, with our unique gifts appreciated. Yet many of us feel the ache of missing a place where we truly feel at home. How do we cultivate this feeling of belonging here on Islesboro?

We will explore these experiences using the practice of council: communicating open-heartedly and respectfully in a sacred, co-created container of trust and tenderness.

WHEN: Saturday, April 5th, 9:30am - 3:00pm. Lunch provided.

WHERE: The Islesboro Community Center, 103 Pendleton Point Road

REGISTRATION: There are several levels of contribution for the day: $30, $60, $90. Find what works for you. To learn more about the facilitators for the day and register for the event, visit www.islesborocommunitycenter.org or call 734-8200.

Registration deadline is Tuesday, April 1st.
